

UW in the High School

Teach a UW course in your classroom.

The UW in the High School program trains teachers to deliver University of Washington courses in their high school classroom.

This program is truly outstanding. It allows students to experience college while being in high school.

-UWHS Teacher

For more than a quarter-century, UWHS has provided Washington State high school students with the knowledge, motivation and confidence to successfully transition to college. UWHS is fully accredited by the National Alliance of Concurrent Enrollment Partnerships (NACEP).

Join the Program

The UW in the High School (UWHS) program enables you to offer University of Washington courses to your students at a fraction of University tuition. As a UWHS teacher, you will be recognized as a UW Extension Lecturer and use UW curriculum, activities and assessments. Your students can earn UW credit and recognition for their UWHS courses at most public institutions and many private ones.

Program Benefits

- Teach high-quality university courses
- Gain access to the world-class UW library system
- Explore interesting subjects and learning materials
- Partner with UW coordinators and liaisons throughout the year
- Join a dynamic community of fellow UWHS teachers in your subject area
- Earn clock hours at UWHS trainings
